Michaelmas term 2011

A centre for creative excellence

The Birley Centre was officially opened on 4 October by Gus Christie, the executive chairman of Glyndebourne Productions Ltd. Guests from all over the world gathered to celebrate the inauguration of this spectacular performing arts centre.

The Birley Centre provides a state-of-the-art platform for performances by pupils across all the creative arts. It also offers a wide range of facilities that local businesses, visiting artists, musicians and drama groups can temporarily treat as their own, and it is fast becoming the linchpin in a series of new partnerships the College is forming with leading cultural organisations throughout the South East, not least with Glyndebourne.

In the two months since its opening, the building has played host to a variety of events

– some featured inside this newsletter – and collected accolades from everyone who has visited. Over 1200 people have attended the four events linked to its opening with a drop-in morning for the public attracting over 350 visitors in just a couple of hours.

Simon and Robina Davies, Gus Christie, Michael and Ann Birley and Admiral Sir Ian Forbes declare the Birley Centre officially open

Academic success continues

Once again College pupils achieved outstanding results in their public examinations. With competition for university places at an all-time high, Upper Sixth pupils excelled in their A levels and achieved the second best ever results in the College's history, just short of the record set last year.

Yawen Yin was the top performer with 4A*s and 1A while five other pupils gained 3A*s or better. Of all the grades awarded at A level, 18% were A* and 83% were A*-B; all 13 pupils who received offers from Oxford and Cambridge achieved their conditional offers. Almost a third of candidates achieved at least one A* grade and a similar number left with three A grades or better.

Of the Year 11 pupils who took GCSEs last summer, over 70 students notched up five or more A*s or As. William Hutchinson was the top performer with 13A*s and 1A grade while Jennie Hreben, Patrick Davies, Edward Lewis and Henry Miller all gained at least 11 A*s.

While maintaining extraordinary levels of success in the arts, sport and other activities, the College continues to be in excellent academic health, enabling pupils of all abilities and talents to excel.

Jimjam walk

Staff and pupils were among the 370 walkers from across the local community who raised over £11,700 for the new St Wilfrid's Hospice currently under construction. An energetic warm-up on College Field signalled the start of proceedings and hot soup and rolls greeted the walkers in the Dining Room at the end of their 10k hike.

Blood will have blood, they say...

As this newsletter goes to press, final touches are being put to the main College production of Macbeth which features a cast and crew of over 70 drawn from every year group in the school. The play has been given a modern twist by Director of Drama Tim Marriott, who has set it in the present day and chosen two casts to share the limelight. Lower Sixth actors Rory Ellis, Matt Prifti, Lizzie Prideaux, Sam Hyne and Max Walker will take centre stage on three nights and the Upper Sixth cast – Sam Bottomley, Fred Buchanan, James Mannion, Georgia Ingham and Jarvis Duthie-Jackson – will tread the boards in the College theatre on the other nights.

Next week the action will move to the Jennifer Winn Auditorium, where a wide range of musical talent drawn from pupils of all ages will be showcased in the cabaret-style Black Magic over three nights.

Harold Wolstenholme and Edward Lewis, pictured above with Professor Lord Winston and biology teachers Miss Arnold and Mr Fellows, were among 18 pupils who attended an international conference on the future of stem cell and gene therapy in Brighton during Long Leave.

Congratulations to

The 11 gold CREST award winners: Pascale Davies, Ella Harriott, Emma-Grace Hill, Megan Lloyd, Suzie Miller, Sarah Plattes, Lucy Tomkins, Sophie Tomkinson, Jodie Weston, Emily Wilson and Charlotte Yates, who each received a top award from the British Science Association for their AS level work in Textiles. Year 9 pupil Giles Robinson

and witty translation of Prévert's Déjeuner du matin, written during his final year at St Andrew's. Fiona Taylor OE, who recently received her gold Duke of Edinburgh award at St James' Palace. Fiona is the first College girl ever to have achieved bronze, silver and gold awards. Marianne Smith, whose clutch bag was shortlisted as one of the top ten designs out of thousands submitted in the prestigious Handbag Designer of the Year competition. In front of a capacity crowd at the Clothes Show Live at the NEC Birmingham on 6 December, Marianne's bag was awarded third prize. Year 11 pupil Stephen Burchett, who has qualified for the second round of the maths Olympiad despite competing against sixth form pupils from around the country. This places him in the top 1000 or so mathematicians of school age in the UK. Edward Field, who succeeded in gaining a sixth form army scholarship which will offer some financial sponsorship during A levels and will open the door for entry to the Royal Military College at Sandhurst on completion of his studies.

Charity at home and abroad

An informative and moving talk by Lindsay Wilson, a representative of the Teenage Cancer Trust, galvanised pupils into raising funds. As part of the College's widespread charitable activity this term, a cake sale and proceeds from multi day raised £950 for the charity on the eve of Long Leave. The very next day Miss Burford and Miss Briedenhann joined seven Nugent girls on a journey to Zululand for Africa 3 and the chance to bring fresh water to the people of Ekuthuleni. A demanding physical challenge ended in elation when, on the fifth day, their hard work was rewarded by the wonderful sight of water emerging from the village taps.

U18 Sussex champions

The U18 College hockey team are county champions for the ninth time in eleven years and the U14 girls have also picked up the county title – for the eighth time in ten years. Both teams recently represented Sussex in the regional round of the national competition and played with real character and passion against the best teams in the south, the 1st XI returning unbeaten. The 1st XI are at the semi-final stage of the U19 county competition, having lost just one game all season, and the U15s, whose single loss this term was by the narrowest of margins, have also reached the semi-final of their county tournament. The 2nd XI have enjoyed a solid season, winning eight matches out of ten and beating a first XI along the way; the U16As remain undefeated in school games under coach Mr Mattingly; Mr Hart's 15Cs lost only one game in an excellent season; and both the U14A and U14B teams have recorded just one defeat apiece. Hockey at Eastbourne College just keeps going from strength to strength.

U14 Sussex champions

England call up

Congratulations to goalkeeper Sam Brooks, who has been selected to join the England U18 hockey programme for the 2011–12 season and will attend the national U18 boys' strength and conditioning camp at the Lilleshall National Sports Centre later this month in preparation for the season ahead. Sam is no stranger to international hockey, having been the top England keeper at U16 level.

A Latin influence

Rugby tour to South America

The season started early for 33 senior players who travelled to South America in August for a taste of rugby in the Southern Hemisphere, playing matches in Uruguay, Argentina and Chile and returning full of self-belief in readiness for the start of the new season. The 1st XV have since notched up some impressive wins against, among others, King's College School, Wimbledon and Epsom College. By the end of the first half of term, College sides had begun to find their rhythm, recording some superb wins against Cranleigh and Hurstpierpoint. This new-found confidence made for a solid second half of the season, with the U16s in particular raising their game and recording a series of convincing wins. The Tigers, wearing their new shirts, have won four out of their last five matches, culminating in a superb win on College Field against a strengthened St Bede's 2nd XV.

Making waves

The junior boys' swimming team of George Brassett, Charlie Meek, Ghazali Owasil, Dylan Price and Angus Wilson (pictured here) took K2 Crawley by storm in October at the English Schools Swimming Association's national relay competition, where they won gold in both the freestyle and medley relays and were declared regional champions. All the College swimmers performed well in the pool, with the senior girls' team of Chloe Cook, Pascale Davies, Alex Simpson and Charlotte Yates winning two silver medals each and showing what a major force in the pool they have been for the College over the past five years. Six sets of medals were won and 17 new personal best times set on the day – an outstanding set of results, setting high hopes for the swimming calendar this year.

Simon's Cup

Harry Clarke is this term's recipient of Simon's Cup for Endeavour, having made an excellent contribution across a number of areas of sport.

Described as someone who will 'always be a footballer playing rugby', Harry has learned to play rugby over the last two years, working his way into the 1st XV where his devastating pace has proved a major asset to the team. Undaunted by adversity, he has impressed his coaches with his passion, commitment and desire to excel. On top of his considerable rugby commitment, Harry has undertaken athletics and football training outside the College and was also instrumental in setting up a weekly football training session in the Reeves cage. His determination, positive attitude and dedication are exemplary and deserve recognition.

Sports shorts

■ Josh Pankhurst has qualified for three events so far at the British National Championships Olympic Qualifier in March, when he will swim in the new Olympic pool at the Aquatic Centre in London

■ Tessa Mills finished third in the National Ladies Fives Competition held at St Paul's School at the beginning of December. Earlier in the term she reached the semi-finals of the singles event of the UK Open Handball Competition and, with partner Sophie Tomkinson, the final of the doubles event

■ Captain of rugby Seb Nagle-Taylor is currently playing for the Sussex U18 squad and is hoping to be selected for the London and South East divisional side

■ In her first term at the College, Year 9 Rebecca O'Dwyer impressed with her goalkeeping skills and was invited to be reserve for the U15 regional Hockey Futures Cup squad

■ Conor Hughes, Charlie Hunter Blair and Hugo Millns have been selected to join Alex Goble at the Harlequins School of Rugby, while Hector Veasey continues to progress through the Harlequins Junior Elite Player Development Group

Michaelmas term 2011

Eastbourne College Society annual lecture

The 2011 ECS Lecture was given by award-winning journalist Sam Kiley on Friday 16 September in the Birley Centre. Sam is an Old Eastbournian (Craig 1978–83) and was appointed Security Editor at Sky News in November 2010. He has been a reporter for over 20 years and in the summer of 2008 he became the first journalist to cover a full operational tour in Afghanistan when he joined 16 Air Assault Brigade on its six-month deployment to Helmand. The book Desperate Glory is Sam's account of those six months.

The Railway Children

Pictured here are some of the ECS members who enjoyed our trip to the former Eurostar terminus at Waterloo Station to see The Railway Children on Wednesday 20 July. Based on the classic family film, this was a unique theatrical experience, with a real steam locomotive making an appearance between the members of the audience seated either side of the tracks.

Mansion House

On Monday 10 October over 30 society members enjoyed a tour of Mansion House, the Lord Mayor of the City of London's office and residence. Afterwards some of the group had tea in One New Change, from whose roof terrace they had fine views across the City and towards St Paul's Cathedral.

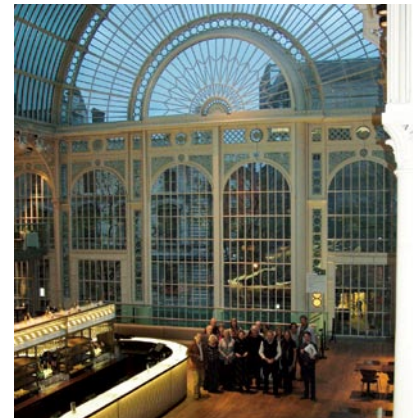

Hampstead walk

The latest ECS London walk took place on Saturday 17 September in and around Hampstead. Sixteen ECS members joined their guide, author and journalist Adam Scott (wearing cap, right), for a colourful and informative tour, with tales of many fascinating local inhabitants throughout history.

Royal Opera House – new tour dates

The backstage tour of the Royal Opera House on Wednesday 30 November (pictured) proved extremely popular. We had such a long waiting list that we have now booked two more tours on Monday 26 March 2012, one at 12.30pm and one at 2.30pm. Tickets cost £9.50 each and you will have to make your own way to London. Please let us know by Friday 20 January if you would like to go.

ECS members had a fascinating look backstage and bumped into Andrew Wicks OE (Powell 1977–81) who had been rehearsing in Die Meistersinger

The Eastbourne College Society (ECS)

The ECS organises a programme of events which helps bring together the College's extended family of parents, Old Eastbournians, current and former staff, local people and other friends and supporters. All current parents and staff are automatically members of the ECS and are welcome at all our events. Members of the ECS meet informally once a term to discuss future events. We would welcome suggestions, even if you can't come to the meetings, particularly from current parents. Our next meeting is on Thursday 19 January at 7.30pm in the Long Room.

Theatre trips

Our next theatre outing is on Saturday 21 January at 2.30pm to see The Pitmen Painters at the Duchess Theatre, London. The play tells of a group of Ashington miners who, in 1934, hired a professor to teach an art appreciation evening class. Winner of the Evening Standard Award for Best New Play, it is an amusing and moving story of the lives of a group of ordinary men who do extraordinary things. We have a limited number of stalls seats available for £29.50 each, reduced from £45.

On Thursday 26 April at 3pm we are going to the Novello Theatre in London to see the hit

Gershwin musical Crazy for You. With memorable songs including 'I Got Rhythm', 'Someone To Watch Over Me', 'Embraceable You' and 'Nice Work If You Can Get It', it's been described as London's most joyous musical. We have stalls tickets available at £29.50, reduced from £59.50. To book tickets please email ecs@eastbourne-college.co.uk or call 01323 452262.

Tour of Guildhall

We are planning a visit to Guildhall in London on Wednesday 21 March, although we will be unable to confirm this date until six weeks beforehand. If you would like to put your name on a list of those interested in this trip, please contact us and we will inform you of the date and time as soon as we know.

ECS quiz night

The ever-popular ECS quiz night and dinner will be held on Saturday 4 February at 7.30pm in the Senior Social Common Room, next to the Dining Hall. Tickets for food, wine, questions and answers cost £12 for members, £14 for guests. Please book early as there will be a limited number of places available.

Parents of last summer's leavers

We are keen to maintain contact with all parents, so if your son or daughter left the College last summer you will continue to receive these newsletters each term. You remain members of the ECS and are welcome to come along to our events. If you would prefer not to receive the newsletter in future, please let us know.

Old Eastbournian Association

OE reunion 2011

This year's reunion on Saturday 10 September was for those OEs who were or would have been in the Upper Sixth in a summer term between and including 1991 and 2005. During the day, some of the guests (pictured) had a tour round the College, including the newly opened Birley Centre, where we later held a drinks reception and recital by Oliver Clarke OE (Craig 2001-06). This was followed by dinner in the Dining Hall, pictures of which are on the OEA website.

From the archives

Michael Partridge writes: The most important news this term is that we have moved the archives into the former music school (or the former Masters' Lodge if you are over 50!). This was a traumatic experience made easier by the unfailing help and good nature of the College porters and maintenance staff, not to speak of Gosdens, the local removal firm. We are now ensconced in excellent accommodation and slowly sorting out our various possessions – no small task when it all coincides with the deadlines for the Old Eastbournian and the College newsletter.

We continue to receive photos, memorabilia and artefacts from OEs and other donors and we continue to deal with historical enquiries from people seeking information about their ancestors, be they former pupils or members of staff. This term we have assisted Crichton Wilson (Powell 1950-55) with the registering in the UK of his father's memoirs Doctor in War and Peace, the story of a well-loved Eastbourne GP who at different times lived with his family in Marlborough House and Tulloch House.

The Arnold Embellishers

In June 1919 the Arnold Embellishers (as they are now known) was established to raise money to 'embellish' projects for which the College would not normally have funds. Over 50 projects have been funded. Notable examples are the fairly recent refurbishments to the Memorial Arch at the heart of the College, lamp standards and lamps in Old Wish Road, floodlighting of the Tower and Memorial Building, through to six planters with olive trees in Chapel Yard, the Cheng mural and now cabinets, plinths, mannequins, displays systems and frames for the Donald Perrens Foyer in the Birley Centre. Other projects are in hand. We have over 150 members and we would like more because that enables us to do more! The annual subscription starts at £10 and helps to leave your legacy to the College for future generations to enjoy. For more information, contact Chris Nicholson by email at chrisnicholson2@btinternet.com or by phone on 01789 491236.

Michael Chartres OBE 1941–2011

It is with sadness that the OEA reports that long-standing committee member Michael Chartres (School 1955–60) died on Monday 10 October 2011. Michael was a loyal and committed supporter of the College and had served on the OEA committee since 1991. His dedication to the College is shown by his activities in the weeks before his death: he attended the OEA committee meeting in London on 22 September, the Birley Centre opening on 4 October and the annual OEA business lunch on 7 October. He was a regular at OE pub evenings and the annual dinner and helped with the organising of venues for many OEA events in London. He represented the OEA at the Association of Representatives of Old Pupils' Societies (AROPS). He was also a member of the Devonshire Society, the College's legacy club. Our thoughts are with his daughter Harriet (Nugent 1991–93) and son Alex (School 1992–97).

New OEA reps

The OEA country reps are able to help with questions about living, working or travelling in their parts of the world. If you would like to volunteer to be a rep in your country or help organise regional events in the UK please contact the OEA office at oea@eastbourne-college.co.uk or +44 (0)1323 452262.

OE London business lunch

We returned to Fino's restaurant in Mayfair for the 2011 business lunch on Friday 7 October and it was good to see a number of younger OEs taking the opportunity to network and discuss career opportunities. Our thanks to Alex Brown (Blackwater 1980–85) for organising the venue.

Pub gatherings

There have been three OE pub get-togethers since the summer: at the Tiger in East Dean at lunchtime on Sunday 11 September; in the evening at the Dolphin in Eastbourne on Thursday 10 November; and another evening event at the Burlington Arms in London's Mayfair on Thursday 24 November.

Lunch in Exeter

Exeter Golf and Country Club was the venue for a get-together over lunch for OEs based in the south-west of England. Our thanks to Rob Holmes (Reeves 1982–87) who suggested the location and co-ordinated the organisation of this informal event.

Birley Centre

Thank you to all those donors who have supported the Birley Centre.

We are delighted to announce that 24 of the 25 rooms have been named, as have 81 seats in the Jennifer Winn Auditorium. You can be part of this remarkable project by naming one of the remaining seats. Please contact this office for details.

Philip Gray (P40), who organised the funding of the Alden room, wrote after attending the Birley Centre opening: 'I have always appreciated the Eastbourne College feeling that we are a family, and you have done much to carry this on. I am confident that this spirit will continue and pave the way for further achievements.'

Peter Homburger (S42) and his family outside the Homburger room, having made the journey from the USA to be at the opening of the Birley Centre on 4 October

The three Homburger brothers escaped the Holocaust in May 1939 and found refuge at Eastbourne College. Music has been central to the three brothers' lives so the family decided to name a room in the Birley Centre. The Homburger family's loyalty and commitment to the College over the last 55 years are exemplary.

Telethon

In July the College embarked upon its first telephone fundraising campaign for Phase 2 of A Vision for the Future. Thirteen intrepid young OEs volunteered to be trained and then set about the daunting task of telephoning 800 other OEs. They enjoyed some interesting conversations over the course of the two weeks and proved to be excellent ambassadors for the College. We are delighted to have a team of young OEs who are as enthusiastic about fundraising as we are.

Eight members of the calling team at the end of the telethon: Fraser Dunk (C04), Rebecca Hreben (Wt06), Max Winchester (R09), Lucy Barrie (Wt05), Elizabeth Shipley (Wt04), Hannah Church (Wt09), Graham Mallaghan (Buffalo Fundraising), Rhiannon Gossedge (Wt04), Yasmin Iqbal (B03), David Stewart

Foundation Golf Challenge

In the foreground (centre) Mirren Mace with Harry Finch, first recipient of the Peter Bibby Award, surrounded by the great supporters of the Golf Challenge

This year's Foundation Golf Challenge was enjoyed by 22 teams, and 105 of us sat down for dinner at the end of a great day's golf at Royal Eastbourne. The auction was extremely successful, thanks to the generosity of players and their guests; telephone bids from London and Hong Kong added to the excitement. We are very grateful to Martin Lulham (Pw91), Managing Director of M-Tech Systems, for headline sponsorship and to all our other loyal sponsors and supporters who enabled us to raise nearly £20,000 on the day. Once again the prizes were handed out by Peter Bibby's daughter, Mirren

Mace, and we were delighted to introduce the first recipient of the award, Harry Finch, during the course of the evening.

Congratulations to Michael Gietzen (R01) and his team from Identity Live Communications who won the trophy.

Thank you for your support
