Michaelmas term 2010

Musical theatre at its best

The production of Evita which ran during the penultimate week of term was powerful and spellbinding. Masterfully produced by Tim Marriott and his team – which included pupil director Holly Ellis – the show was accompanied by a superb 23-piece band made up largely of College pupils, under the expert baton of Graham Jones. This achievement was all the more commendable given the fact that the only communication between the actors on stage, the band down in the pit and the conductor was through an elaborate system of cameras and screens.

The actors in the lead roles – James Dickens, Rory Ellis, Beth Ewen, Poppy Jamieson, Will Stentiford and Daniel Yu – together with the six who played the mistresses all glowed with star quality but praise must go to every single member of the 100-strong crew who worked tirelessly together as a team to achieve a degree of professionalism seldom seen in school productions.

Record results

Chandu Wickramarachchi

College pupils achieved record-breaking results at A level and GCSE this year – a real tribute to their hard work and that of their teachers.

Chandu Wickramarachchi was the top performer at A level with a clean sweep of 5 A*s; a further six students achieved 3 A*s or better. Collectively last year's leavers achieved 86% A*-B – a record by 6%. Seventy percent of grades awarded to Year 11 GCSE pupils were A* or A. Natasha Askaroff was the leading performer with 14 A* grades while Sam Brooks, Jessica Hatrick, Matthew Khan and Daniel Yu all gained at least 12 A*s.

The College remains selective but not highly selective: there was celebration for records broken and the headline grabbing results of individuals, but also for the many, many other girls and boys who did very well. Nationally, on a measure that compares the underlying ability of pupils with their outcomes at GCSE – 'value added' – the College was placed twenty-first. For all this, we continue to recognise that who girls and boys become and how they will operate in the real world has more lasting importance than what they achieve at school.

News in brief

These are just some of the stories that have made the news this term. For a full round-up of all the term's news, please go to www.eastbourne-college.co.uk/News/Pages/news.aspx

Congratulations to...

Catriona Flint OE who achieved the highest score in the country for the jacket she designed and produced as part of her A2 design and technology qualification in textiles last summer, gaining much praise as well as a cash prize from the examining board.

James Mannion whose latest play Ennui provided high drama and hilarity in equal measure to an appreciative audience at its debut performance during the Sixth Form Arts Festival.

Henry Miller who recently won the 2010 Times Stephen Spender Prize for poetry translation in the 14-and-under category, with his pacy take on Ovid's Amores 3.2. Henry is pictured above with Barry Humphries, a board member of the Stephen Spender Trust.

Max Plumtre, pictured below, who came second in the regional finals of the Warburton's Bread Making Competition with his date and cinnamon winter brown bread.

Ellie Wicks who travelled up to the Queen Elizabeth Hall on 5 December to play her final concert with the National Children's Orchestra.

The three senior College mathematicians who gained Gold Awards at this year's Senior Mathematics Challenge. Max Winchester, Nanxi Wu and Yawen Yin will now go on to the British Mathematics Olympiad as members of the top five per cent of mathematicians in the UK in their age group.

Africa 2

Ten girls, accompanied by Kathleen Briedenhann and Linda Salway, set off for the village of Ekhuthuleni in Zululand during half term to build on the foundations laid down a year earlier. The group helped local school children in the classroom as well as honing their netball skills outside. Finishing touches were added to the kitchen built by Africa 1 last year, and friendships were rekindled and cemented. It was a rich and rewarding experience and one that will live long in the memory of all those involved.

Artistic diversion

The South American-themed Arts Festival held in October provided the sixth form with a chance to put aside academic demands for just a short while. From a lecture on Salvador Dali to home-grown theatre, panpipe-making sessions to circus skills, and salsa classes to mask-painting, Festival Director David Force provided a colourful and varied array of creative opportunities to challenge and broaden horizons.

Staff news

Some of the new staff at the very start of term

In September we welcomed back to the College Christy Hawkins (Balliol College, Oxford) who has been acting Head of English for this term prior to the arrival in January of Oliver Marlow (University of St Andrews).

We also extended a warm welcome to Anilú Del Angel Garay, University of San Luis Potosí, Spanish Assistant Martin Johnson, Clare College, Cambridge, mathematics

Ann-Laure Lafargue, University of Pau, French Assistant

Steven Lomon, Trinity College, Oxford, history

Emma Pavey, Brunel University, geography

Lealand Pearce, Cardiff University, business studies

Chloe Travis, University of St Andrews, religious studies and philosophy

Carla Whiddett, University of Brighton, physical education

Kirsty Wilson, University of Brighton, physical education

Alex Wiscombe, University of Newcastle, economics and business studies

Julie Wood, Pembroke College, Cambridge, mathematics

College porters – stars of the snow

We also welcomed Angela Geoghegan (data administrator), Jane Green (Nugent House matron), Lucie Michell OE (games coach), Marian Piper (personnel officer) and Tim Taylor (senior ICT technician), and we bade farewell to porter Philip Baker and Head Chef George Norton who, between them, have given 43 years of loyal and unstinting service to the College community.

A strong tributary of talent

In September, a record 125 pupils joined Year 9 from a record 31 feeder schools.

A further 41 joined the Lower Sixth from a similarly wide range of schools, independent and maintained. Every year this major tributary of impressive talent brings a freshness of outlook, experience and maturity that benefits the whole College. Below are profiles of eight pupils who have recently joined the Lower Sixth and have made their mark right away.

Design and Technology scholar Jody Deans created a three dimensional animation while at Raton which is used to this day as one of the school's marketing tools. He is seen here preparing his submission for a national competition run by the Design Museum in London, the results of which will be known in the New Year. Jody is also a member of the New Academy.

Yawen Yin is an outstanding scholar. She recently scored 120 out of a maximum 125 in the British Mathematics Olympiad and has been rated one of the top 50 physicists in the country at the British Physics Olympiad. Away from her studies Yawen loves music and in only her second term at the College took part in the Young Musician of the Year competition.

Max Winchester is a man of many parts. A school prefect and a member of both the Lectern and Casson Societies, Max is an elite mathematician, having won a gold medal at the British Mathematics Olympiad. Sport is another of his great loves. He toured Barbados with the College cricketers last Easter and has become a key player in the College's golf team.

Just a few weeks into her first term, Georgia Ingham was chosen to play her clarinet in the College production of Evita. She is in the Swing and Concert Bands and will next term be part of the orchestra. Away from her music, Georgia is a valuable member of the S@S team, running the Monday Club to which local elderly residents come for entertainment and a chat over a cup of tea.

Academic scholar Amy Harding is a member of both the Casson and Lectern Societies. She went on the French exchange to Nîmes just six weeks after arriving at the College from St Richard's School and then spent four weeks last summer in Ecuador with the College expedition. Amy is pictured (on left) in Ecuador with Rebecca Eaton.

Head of Gonville Jess Park is a member of the Casson Society. He spent his summer on a film-making course in New York acquiring skills which led to a successful submission for the prestigious Vernon Dobtcheff award and to some highly acclaimed house videos. He interviewed local MP Stephen Lloyd soon after the election and now has his sights set on a PPE course at university.

Richard Pilbeam is this season's most prolific goal scorer at the Eastbourne Hockey Club. A short-corner specialist, he helps coach junior College hockey players when he has time away from his architectural studies and artistic and dramatic commitments. In his very first term at the College, Richard starred as Cardinal Richelieu in the College's acclaimed production of The Three Musketeers.

Jenny Ablett (pictured nearest, above) first visited the College as part of the Eastbourne Schools Shakespeare Festival when she was at Cavendish. Years later and in her first term at the College she was not only selected to be in the chorus for the College's major production of Evita but also starred in Edward Albee's A Delicate Balance – a student-led production which received rave reviews during the very last week of term. Jenny is also a member of the New Academy.

Abi East awarded Simon's Cup

Abi East is this term's recipient of Simon's Cup for Endeavour. The award was established in memory of Simon Green and donated by his mother to the pupil who has shown the greatest endeavour in sport. Abi has had an outstanding season for the U15A girls hockey team and has not allowed a persistent knee injury to prevent her from playing. She received particular praise for her performance at the U16 regional event, despite the fact that she was playing a year above her age group. Her commitment is faultless, and her determination and spirit are exemplary.

Rugby

The season began with some rigorous pre-season training in Cornwall for the 1st XV. Highlights in a season of mixed fortunes included an impressive win against Tonbridge for the first time in several years. Other memorable moments were an emphatic 31-0 win over Sutton Valence, and the game against Hurstpierpoint when a half-time score of 5-22 was transformed into a thrilling 24-22 win, thanks to a commanding performance from the backline supported by a good work rate from the forwards. Elsewhere, the U15A and U14A teams enjoyed strong seasons with the U15As losing only one match in regular school fixtures. The Rugby Club are now preparing for their summer tour to South America when 36 players will lay down the foundations for the 2011 season.

Hockey

Molly Reynolds for the U14s

Georgie Williams for the U16s

For the fifth year in a row and for the seventh time in nine seasons, the College U14 girls hockey team, coached by Ian Sands and Carla Whiddett, are county champions and will challenge for the regional title in January. The U16 team, coached by Scott Mattingly, also won the county title and went on to finish in third place at the regionals, enjoying an unbeaten season in school games. Not to be outdone by their junior colleagues, the 1st XI team qualified for the regional championship as county runners-up at U18 and then went on to win the final of the U19 County Cup.

The 2nd XI, coached by Gwen Taylor-Hall, had an excellent season scoring a total of 24 goals in matches during the second half of term alone while the U14Cs, coached by Annabel Whitehead, just became better and better, beating one A and one B side along the way. The U15s, coached by David Talbot and Joelle Meakin, lost just one game all season and are now in the semi-finals of the U15 county cup.

Swimming and biathlon

At the English Schools Swimming Association national relay competition in November, College relay teams were placed fourth in seven events and the senior boys team picked up a bronze medal in the medley relay. At the same event, Josh Pankhurst broke his own 50m backstroke school record and Pascale Davies broke two school records: her own 50m breaststroke record set earlier in the term, and the 50m freestyle record which had stood for five years. Meanwhile the Year 9 and 10 boys and girls teams have all qualified for the semi-final of the National Schools Biathlon Championships, having amassed a total of 15 medals at the qualifying event in November. The next round of the competition will take place at Crystal Palace in February and we wish all the athletes involved the very best of luck.

Sports news in brief

- Harry Clarke has been invited to train with the Sussex Athletics squad following the success he has recently enjoyed in both sprint and high jump events.
- Badminton player Rachel Fenner

- emerged victorious for Sussex U17s in their recent victory against Bedfordshire and later picked up gold medals for her individual performance in both the singles and doubles competitions held at St Bede's.
- Matt Hobden is in Cape Town training and playing matches with the Sussex County Cricket Club Academy. Twelve of the players in the training squad will be selected for a one-year contract with the Academy.

- Oliver Llewellyn made history at Goodwood in September as the youngest person ever to have taken part in a motor race there. Racing a 1956 Tojeiro Jaguar, one of the oldest cars in the Classic Revival race, Oliver finished a very creditable thirteenth out of twenty-eight.

- Rory Mitchell has been invited to join the Harlequins Junior Elite Player Development Group.

London walks

There were two London walks for ECS members during the summer. The first, on Sunday 18 July, started at Bromley-by-Bow, took in the Three Mills area and continued along the riverside towards the 2012 Olympic site.

Chelsea was the destination for the second walk on Saturday 25 September. The group met at Sloane Square tube station and then enjoyed a walk entitled 'Chelsea: London's Riverside Village'. Some of the group are pictured here by the site of King Henry VIII's manor house. Our thanks to Jenny Lush for her help in organising the walks.

Watermen's Hall

Lunch at Watermen's Hall in the City of London was the highlight of a trip to London on Tuesday 3 August. The group had an introductory talk about the history of this famous London livery company before enjoying a three-course lunch in the Georgian splendour of the dining room. They then went on to the Museum of London, which has recently opened its new galleries telling the story of the capital's more recent past. The afternoon ended with a visit to St Paul's Cathedral and an opportunity to enjoy Evensong.

Parents of last summer's leavers

We are keen to maintain contact with all parents, so those whose daughters and sons left the College last summer will continue to receive these newsletters each term. You remain members of the ECS and are welcome to come along to our events. Please let us know if you would prefer not to receive any more newsletters.

Theatre trips

The National Theatre was the venue for our theatre trip on the afternoon of Tuesday 31 August. Some of the group are seen here in the circle of the Lyttelton Theatre during the interval of the matinée performance of Alan Bennett's latest play The Habit of Art.

At the end of October we visited the Cambridge Theatre in London to see the musical Chicago. By booking at the group rate we managed to arrange central stalls seats at a significant discount on the normal price.

Future events

The annual ECS quiz night and dinner is on Saturday 5 February at 7.30pm in the Dining Hall. Tickets for food and wine are £12 (ECS members) and £14 (guests).

Another visit to Lloyd's of London has been arranged for those who were unable to join us on this trip last June. The date is Thursday 3 March and the cost is £10 per person for the guided tour. Please make your own way to and from London.

On Wednesday 11 May there is a private tour of Sutton's Hospital in London's Charterhouse Square. A former Carthusian monastery, it has served as a private mansion, a boys' school and an almshouse for gentleman pensioners, known as Brothers, which it remains to this day. Tours of this historic building, guided by one of the Brothers, are limited so this is a rare opportunity. The cost is £10 per person.

On Saturday 25 June, there is a trip to Canterbury Cathedral, followed by Evensong at 3.15pm. The cost, including coach, entrance fee and guided Cathedral tour, is £30 per person. We leave Eastbourne at 10am and arrive in time for lunch followed by the tour at 1.30pm. Please let us know by the end of January if you would like to book a place.

The Eastbourne College Society (ECS)

The ECS organises a programme of events which helps bring together the College's extended family of parents, Old Eastbournians, current and former staff, local people and other friends and supporters. All current parents and staff are automatically members of the ECS and are invited to come to any of our events.

Calling all Old Aschamians

Planning has already started for a lunch at the College from 12 noon on Sunday 29 May 2011 for all former pupils of Ascham Prep School who attended any time between 1945 and 1977, when the school closed. Ascham's last Headmaster, Michael Keall, has already confirmed that he will be coming, along with other former staff. Unfortunately our records of Ascham pupils are incomplete and we do not know the whereabouts of many of the Ascham boys who did not come on to the College. We would like to invite as many as possible, so if you are in touch with any Old Aschamians who do not currently receive this newsletter, please pass on their details to us. The cost will be £15 per person including lunch and wine, and wives and partners are welcome to come too. If you would like to book places please contact us by phone, post or email (our contact details are at the foot of the opposite page). Please make cheques payable to 'Eastbourne College'.

From the archives

Michael Partridge writes: We have lately been corresponding with an enthusiastic historian of skiing, Freddie Whitelaw, about OE Christopher Mackintosh who was in Blackwater 1917–22. Chris, or Mac, as he was known, was an international rugby player, Olympic long jumper, gold medallist in the 1938 four-man bobsleigh world championships but, above all, the greatest downhill skier of his day. Chris would enter races with never a thought for taking the easy way down. The fast, steep and deep route was always his choice, as it was 'more fun that way'. He took part in the first international downhill and slalom ever held, in January 1924, and came to a steep and narrow slope which 'nobody but a lunatic would take straight as there is no outrun'. Chris immediately took the slope straight, leaped ten metres, rattled across the wooden path at the bottom, held the abrupt outrun, shot up the steep bank on the far side and finished with a wonderful Christiania turn. Thus 'Mac's Leap' was born. Renowned skier Arnold Lunn said: 'Of all the great racers of the Golden Age there is none, British or continental, who exemplified more perfectly the gay spirit of British racing.' The forthcoming edition of the Old Eastbournian includes an article with some rare photos of Chris in action.

The Arnold Embellishers

Michael Partridge writes: The Embellishers have agreed to publish a third book, Eastbourne College in the Second World War, which covers the College's time at Radley, together with chapters on the Eastbourne Branch in Gonville and the HMS Marlborough occupation. Working with colleagues at Radley, we have produced an anthology of articles and photographs which describes those momentous years. The book has 70 A4 pages and is available for £5 if collected from the College, or £6 if mailed to a UK address. An initial print run of 100 will be available but it will, we hope, sell out fast. Copies are available from Marlborough House, or you can place your order by phoning 01323 451901, or by emailing ae@eastbourne-college.co.uk. Please contact us for overseas postage rates.

The Cricketer Cup

After many years, the Old Eastbourne Cricket Club has finally been given entry to the prestigious Cricketer Cup, the competition for independent schools' old boys clubs. OECC member, Dr Ian Thwaites (S56), says: 'The first match that we play is at home on Sunday 12 June against Old Cholmeleians (Highgate School). If we get through this round then the subsequent games are on Sunday 26 June (home), Sunday 10 July (away) and Sunday 24 July (home) with the final on Sunday 14 August. We hope as many people as possible will come to Eastbourne for this first momentous match.' If you would like to lend your support please contact Ian on 01403 730363 or igthwaites@btinternet.com or just turn up at College on the day.

Reunion 2010

This year's reunion was held on Saturday 11 September for all OEs who were Upper Sixth leavers between 1976 and 1990. We were also pleased to welcome back members of staff from both the College and Ascham Prep School from this period. Over 170 guests enjoyed dinner in the Dining Hall following a day in which they had a chance to look round the College and catch up with old friends. More pictures of the guests at dinner are on the OEA website. A date for your diary: the 2011 reunion will be held on Saturday 10 September and is for those who were or would have been in the Upper Sixth in a summer term between and including 1991 and 2005.

Some OE former choristers joined the Chapel Choir for Evensong

OE business lunch

This year we moved away from our usual City venue and held the business lunch in Fino's restaurant in Mayfair. The lunch, on Friday 8 October, was a chance for anybody, whatever their profession or location, to meet other OEs and make new business contacts. Our thanks go to OEA committee member Alex Brown (B80) for suggesting the venue and organising the event.

The OE Lodge

In September John Seldon (W49), the most senior Lodge member, celebrated his golden jubilee as a Mason. Lodge Secretary Forbes Wastie writes: 'Loyalty is one of the most valued qualities of human nature and to have served his school, his university, his country and this Lodge with such modesty and quiet determination is testament to his character. He was presented with his 50-year certificate by a fellow aviator Mason Alan Borer representing the Provincial Grand Master of Sussex, who paid the warmest tribute to John.'

OE London dinner

The 2011 OE London dinner will be held on Thursday 12 May at Watermen's Hall in the City of London. We are planning a discount for OEs aged 29 and under. Further details and a booking form will be carried in the Old Eastbourne magazine in the New Year as well as on the OEA website.

London pub gathering

There was a good turnout at the latest London pub evening on Thursday 25 September. Pictured here are a few of the OEs of all ages who came along to the Cellar Bar at The King's Head in Albemarle Street, Mayfair. The next London pub evening is on 10 March and the first Eastbourne pub gathering will be from 6pm on 24 March at The Dolphin in South Street.

The OEA needs you!

The OEA would like to organise more events along the lines of the pub evenings, lunches and dinners mentioned in these pages, but we need YOUR help. We need volunteers to act as OE reps in the UK regions, to suggest venues for OE get-togethers and be on hand to welcome OEs and their guests. Similarly we would like to set up OE professional groups so that OEs in the same industry or career can have a chance to get together over a drink or a meal. If you would like to get involved or have any suggestions for events or venues, please get in touch.

Keep in touch using WebAlumnus

We will be contacting all OEs shortly with details of how to access the new OEA WebAlumnus website, which is now up and running. The website is exclusively for OEs and gives you the chance to make contact with your contemporaries, check on forthcoming OEA events, send in your news and photos, and keep your contact details up to date. We also hope that OEs will use it to offer and receive careers and university advice, as well as setting up professional, social and sports groups. It is your website and it is up to you how you would like to use and develop it.

Foundation and Development

The Foundation and Development Office works with Old Eastbournians, parents and friends of Eastbourne College to raise funds for bursaries and the development of the school's facilities. Charity no 307071

A charity and a school built through teamwork

Construction of the Birley Centre is progressing apace. Your interest, involvement and support for the charity (the College) are vital to secure the school's future development. We are what we are today because of the generosity of previous generations. A current College parent said recently: 'The College is at the top of its game and we now have the opportunity to lay down the foundations for the next stage of its development and for future families of Eastbournians.' Through regular affordable giving, we can all make a difference.

- Open for business in September 2011; all donors will be invited to the official opening
- Birley Centre room and seat naming opportunities are available
- The College will be a centre for musical excellence
- Fundraising for this project is ongoing as part of the development plan
- Completion of this project will free up space for future development
- The next phase of development is now being planned

UK taxpayers using Gift Aid will substantially increase the value of a gift to the College while also reducing their own cost if they pay higher rate tax.

Supporters in the USA can benefit from tax breaks too. Nic Hemes (B51) said: 'I used the BSUF facility and the whole process was effortless. I wrote a US$ cheque, sent to them with a covering letter disbursing the funds to Eastbourne College. I received a letter of acknowledgement within three weeks which stated

Net payment by donor	£1,000	£10,000
Tax reclaimed (basic rate + Transitional Relief until March 2011)	£282	£2,820
Value to Eastbourne College	£1,282	£12,820
Higher Rate relief	£250	£2,500
Net cost to donor if a Higher Rate Taxpayer	£750	£7,500

that my donation was tax-free for income tax purposes as agreed by the Internal Revenue Service department of the US Treasury.' Download the BSUF forms from our website page. Our BSUF rep in the USA is OE Suzanna Stranding: standrings@optimum.net
