

Canoeing on a flooded College Field, 1961

Memories:

We started a remote control aeroplane in a teacher's basement one evening while someone else was practising something by Status Quo far too loudly on his electric guitar. Also, a paper dart hitting a guest in the back of the head at the start of the 'Revue' which was promptly cancelled.

Roy Budgett (School 1973-75)

Physical training in Old Wish Road, 1930s

*Pupils test drive a hovercraft that they had built,
Speech Day 1967*

Nugent House leavers celebrating, 2006

Memories:

Claire Lathbury remembered playing Hermione in Shakespeare's 'The Winter's Tale'. In the last scene she had to remain as still as a statue for nearly fifteen minutes, wearing a floaty long dress and at every performance, another pupil, Adam Mynott, would turn on a fan backstage so that the dress was practically floating over her head.

Claire Lathbury (Nugent 1974-76)

Memories:

School slang

*The 'Tucker' or the 'grubber' was the tuck shop
... 'Stodge' was the pudding at lunch, which arrived
daily in a single pile, subtly differentiated by colour, odour but not always taste... It was warming but slowed us down somewhat playing rugger afterwards.*

Jeremy Lovitt-Danks (Wargrave 1955-59)

Boys in boaters (known as 'bashers')

Pupils on Eastbourne seafront c.1900

*Cricket on College
Field, 1917*

